

Ports of Europe

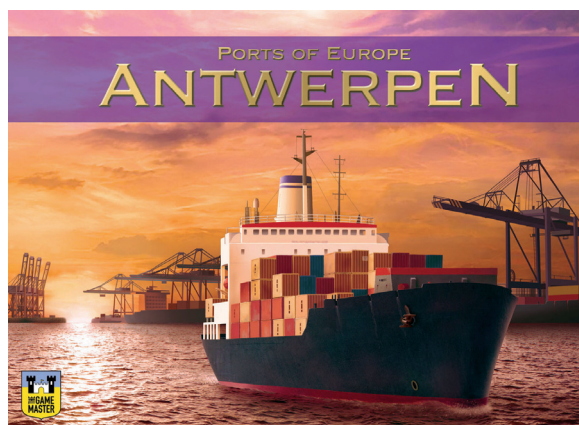

Factsheet

Introduction

The Game Master is preparing a reprint of the popular harbour game Rotterdam which will be ready in Fall 2010, alongside with an Antwerp variant. A series of harbour games will be developed under the brand name of Ports of Europe. This is the moment to jump aboard!

Due to the fact that other international publishers are interested in co-publishing, it is very well possible to publish the harbour game for other major port cities like Hamburg, Marseille or London. When you are interested in publishing a harbour game in your own language or version, please contact us at 00-31-180-320057 or send us an e-mail at info@thegamemaster.nl

Become a Harbour Tycoon!

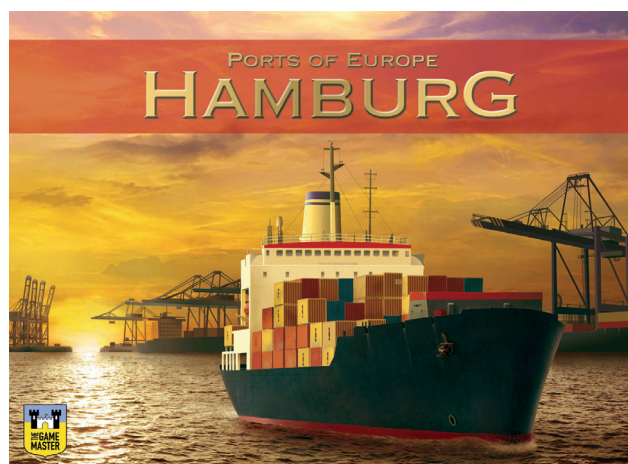

The players are international harbour entrepreneurs with their own fleet, transporting goods from all over the world. Freighters come fully stacked with crude oil from the Middle East, grains from the US, fruits from South America and fabrics from Asia.

Interactive family game

The Game Master has yet again succeeded in creating an interactive family game that combines playing a fun game with getting a unique insight into the hustle and bustle of a great harbour. The game rules are clear and simple, and the enjoyment is fantastic!
